

THE HOT DOG

3RD EDITION JUNE 2011

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Well the year has gotten very busy for the club, with member's competitions, open agility trials and our open obedience trial both held in June.

Our member's competition was a great success, with large numbers entering in all classes – lots of passes and graduations to the next class. Great prizes from our sponsors Nutro too.

Our recent open double header agility trial was an awesome success. We had over 500 runs during day! The competition was stiff, with many national champions entered – WA is home to many national agility champions. Many of our members walked away with first prizes and/or placings. A huge thanks again to our tremendous sponsor Nutro for the prizes.

Our agility double header was followed by our open obedience trial. We were lucky enough to have some of the best dogs competing. The weather held and we had a great day with several excellent rounds. A personal thanks from me to Frances, who stepped in as Chief Steward, allowing me to use the trial as a practice for upcoming events (see below).

A tremendous thanks to all those volunteers who helped make both trials so much fun. We had a great turn out of volunteers who did the club proud - a couple of the best Northern Suburbs trials I can remember.

I am off on a personal adventure next week – I have entered Maverick in the Obedience Nationals in Brisbane. Together with my fiancée Jen (agility instructor) and her dog Selby, we are giving the nationals a go. First time either of our dogs have flown, so we're a little nervous.

In closing, one of the best training tips I can give. BE PATIENT. Give your dog time to learn. Don't rush. Don't try and skip to step two, before you have step one well understood and learned by your dog. It is ok if your dog doesn't "get it" immediately. Stick with whatever you are teaching. Keep steps small and simple and take your time and then your dog will learn well and remember.

Happy training everyone!

FROM THE EDITOR

Hi Clubbies!

Welcome to the June edition of the Hotdog.

As always, it promises great reading and advice for those teething problems we all endure with our four-legged friends.

I ask if you have any photos of things happening around the Club, please send them to me for use in copies of the HotDog.

Please enjoy the Jediton of the HotDog – train hard and stay safe!

EIGHT WAYS TO REASSERT YOUR ROLE AS ALPHA

Dogster.com

Is your puppy still being a puppy? Is he challenging your authority and being difficult? It is likely that he is still in his adolescent phase and with all the distractions and curiosities of the world around him, even a well-trained puppy may not always listen. It's time to go back to basics and reassert yourself as Alpha. Puppies who live in a home where the pack order is clear are more secure, calmer and, dare we say, happier.

If your puppy is challenging you, you may notice some specific signs. He may become territorial about space or food. He may start jumping on people even if you had trained him not to. He may become rebellious during training sessions. Or he may start marking again. If it's not in your demeanor to sternly order your puppy around, no worries. There are many ways to reassert your position as Alpha without barking commands.

1. Be Calm - The calmer you are, the calmer your pup will be. Whenever he gets excited, gently say "Calm!" and don't proceed with your task until he calms down.
2. Always Leave First - When you go out for a walk, always be the first one out the door.
3. Always Eat First - Have your dinner before you feed your puppy. Do not allow begging.
4. Take Away His Food - At any point during his dinner, you should be able to take away your puppy's food. If he resists, remove the food and calm him down before returning it and repeating.
5. Go Back to Basics - Go over the basic obedience commands again. Start with "Sit!" and "Stay!" and move forward only when he re-masters them.
6. Use the Floor - If your puppy is allowed on the bed or the couch, change this. After he passes this phase, you can probably re-allow him up but, for now, make it clear that his place is on the floor.
7. Use Your Height - Do not get down to your puppy's level. Stand or bend over him.
8. Make Him Move - If your puppy is in your way, don't walk around him. Gently move him out of your way while saying "Move!"

Remember, in your dog's mind, your family is a pack and he needs a leader. Imagine how chaotic a home without rules would be for humans and you can see why your puppy will be difficult if you don't give him structure. If your puppy doesn't know who is in charge, he will be confused and, subsequently, assume he is supposed to fill that role. If you allow your puppy to be the Alpha, you'll have a dog who refuses to get off the couch, who eats anything in sight and worse, may become aggressive toward others.

Once your pup is back in his place in the pack, you can modify some of the rules such as getting down on his level. But if the rebellion comes back, revert to a strict stance until he acknowledges you as Alpha again.

LET YOUR DOG'S RIBS GUIDE YOUR FEEDING HABITS

By Casey Lomonaco - dogster.com

Obesity is a severe, chronic, and common health problem that leads to many other health issues in dogs. It is not uncommon to see overweight dogs who are being fed in accordance with the recommended feeding amounts and guidelines posted on the kibble bag. Allow your dog's body condition to determine the proper amount of food to feed him. If your dog is overweight, cut his food gradually (1/3 cup/week, for instance) until you can easily feel each of his ribs without pressing. Place your hand flat on a table, palm-down. Run the fingers of your opposite hand along your first set of knuckles: this is how your dog's ribs should feel when he is at a healthy weight.

CUPCAKE DAY FOR THE RSPCA 2011

On Monday 15 August, cooks across Australia will descend on their schools, workplaces and social groups with batches of truly scrumptious homemade cupcakes that will be exchanged for donations to the RSPCA!

Last year, $1.1 million was raised to assist in the care and protection of the animals of Australia. This year, they are aiming for $3 million!

For every $100 raised, Cupcake Cooks go into the drawer to win a Kymco Scooter.

To register or find out more, please visit www.rspcacupcakeday.com.au

ADVERTISE IN THE HOTDOG!

The Club has agreed to offer members the opportunity to advertise businesses on the back of the hot dog.

Quarter page ads will be charged at $50 per issue of the HotDog (every second month).

DID YOU KNOW?

Buzzle.com

- The lifespan of a dog, on an average is between 8 to 15 years.
- When you speak about maturity, a dog that is merely one year old can have the physical maturity of a 15-year-old human being.
- Did you know that the body of a dog contains 321 bones? An adult dog always has 42 teeth.
- When it comes to humans, fingerprints play a major role in identification. Did you know that a dog's nose prints are as unique as a human's fingerprint? These can also act as a substantial proof for identification.

Purina Body Condition System
